This is Advanced Skin Correction.

With time, factors like sun exposure, collagen depletion, and weakened blood vessels can magnify vascular problems on the skin's surface, including visible blood vessels (telangiectasia). This can result in the appearance of fine lines, redness, and an aged or uneven complexion. The Alma Veil laser treatment tackles the root cause of vascular-related skin concerns promoting a healthier, more uniform complexion:

Facial Redness

Visible Blood Vessels

Rosacea

Hemangiomas

Port-Wine Stains

Venous Lakes

Angiomas

Spider Veins

Scars

What causes facial flushing?

Facial flushing, characterized by a sudden and temporary reddening of the face, is a common experience. It can be triggered by emotional stress, spicy food, alcohol, exposure to extreme temperatures, or certain medical conditions such as rosacea. Though generally harmless, facial flushing can significantly affect an individual's confidence and self-esteem due to its noticeable appearance.

Alma Veil aims to address this issue by targeting visible or underlying vascular conditions to reduce the contributing and persistent redness or visible blood vessels on the face.

What can I expect?

The Alma Veil treatment aims to address visible or underlying vascular concerns. The specific experience may vary depending on the severity of your condition. A consultation is recommended to assess your condition and discuss your goals and expectations.

Is it comfortable?

The level of discomfort and downtime associated with Alma Veil treatments can vary. Some treatments may cause minimal discomfort, while others may result in slight redness or swelling immediately after the procedure. However, downtime is typically minimal, and you can usually resume your daily activities shortly after treatment.
